

OHRP and UCSF Town Meeting Regulatory Overview and Hot Topics

IT'S YOUR TURN TO ASK THE FEDS

May 6, 2002

11:30 am – 1:30pm

UCSF Parnassus Campus, N225

This Town Meeting will be a Federal Videoconference and is jointly sponsored by the University of California, San Francisco and the Office for Human Research Protections (OHRP), DHHS

This workshop is a two-hour session designed to give participants an overview of federal regulations with special emphasis on hot topics.

Since this is a videoconference, participants will be able to see those at OHRP and ask questions directly to them. Microphones will be set up in the room to provide the opportunity for questions.

-Jeffrey Cohen, Director, Division of Education, will lead the discussion from OHRP in Washington, DC

- George Pospisil, a representative from OHRP, will be present at UCSF

TARGET AUDIENCE:

- Anyone involved in human subjects research who would like to ask questions.
- Please note seating capacity is limited to 200 so come early.
- There is NO COST and NO REGISTRATION for this meeting.

SUGGESTED TOPICS OF DISCUSSION:

- Case studies—should they be or not be reviewed by the IRB?
- Guidance for reviewing and conducting genetic studies
- Tissue collection and storage
- Multi-institutional Research and the FWA
- International Research and the FWA
- Online research—how should consent be obtained?

CONTACT FOR MORE INFORMATION:

For more information please contact Lisa Voss, Committee on Human Research, (415) 514-2152; e-mail – lvoss@research.ucsf.edu

Also please call Lisa if you have additional suggestions for topics of discussion.
